

Summer Internship – HORTICULTURE*Apply by: 31 March 2023 or until positions are filledDuration: 10 – 12 weeks during summer of 2023Compensation: $12.00/hrContact: Andrew Adams, Horticulture ManagerTelephone: (302) 831-0909 E-mail: aadamsud@udel.eduWebsite: <https://canr.udel.edu/udbg/events-education/internships/>

The UDBG has a minimum of four full time summer internships available for 2023. Students are expected to be highly motivated, hard-working, dependable, able to work in groups and independently. There is no required Horticulture experience necessary! Interns will spend the summer working in the gardens with the garden staff learning maintenance skills and gaining experience in public horticulture. Students will work outside performing a wide variety of maintenance tasks, such as mowing, weed control, pruning, planting, hardscape installation, etc. Additionally, they will develop specialized skills such as curatorial work, detailed pruning and propagation. Students will work individually and in groups to accomplish the goals set forth for the summer. Students will take field trips to local public gardens to further their experience in public horticulture. Applicants will need to be enrolled full time in University/College courses to apply. For additional information, please feel free to contact Andrew Adams. To apply, please submit 1) a letter of interest including career goals, 2) a current resume, 3) two letters of references, and 4) transcript to Andrew Adams either in writing or via email.

Andrew Adams

Department of Plant and Soil Sciences

University of Delaware

531 College Avenue

Newark, DE 19716-2170